BRITISH CONSULAR NOTIFICATION.

BRITISH CONSULATE,
SHANGHAE, April 14th, 1865.

THE Undersigned has been directed by H. M.'s Chargé d'Affaires to publish the following Order in Council for general information.

HARRY S. PARKES,
Consul.

At the Court at Windsor, the 9th day of July, 1864.

Present,—The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the better government of Her Majesty's subjects resorting to China," power was given to Her Majesty to authorise the Superintendent of the Trade of Her Majesty's subjects in China (so long as such Superintendent should be also the Governor of the island of Hongkong) to enact, with the advice of the Legislative Council of the said Island of Hongkong, all such laws and ordinances as might from time to time be required for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China, and to enforce the execution of such laws and ordinances by such penalties and forfeitures as to him, by the advice aforesaid, should seem fit; and he was (amongst other things) enacted that it should be lawful for Her Majesty to disallow, in the whole or in part, any laws or ordinances so to be enacted as aforesaid, and with the advice of Her Majesty's Privy Council to alter the same, or any of them, as to Her Majesty in Council should seem meet; and that it should not be lawful for Her Majesty by any Order or Orders made with the advice of Her Majesty's Privy Council, to ordain for the government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the Coast of China, any law or ordinance which to Her Majesty in Council might seem meet, as fully and effectually as any such law or ordinance could be made by Her Majesty in Council for the government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the said island of Hongkong;

And whereas under and by virtue of the said Act, and of a certain other Act passed in the same Session of Parliament, intituled "An Act to remove doubts as to the exercise of power and jurisdiction by Her Majesty within divers countries and places out of Her Majesty's dominions, and to render the same more effual," Her Majesty was pleased by an Order in Council bearing date the 13th day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty three, to make provision for the good government of Her Majesty's subjects resorting to China, and for certain other purposes therein mentioned; and thereby (amongst other things) Her Majesty's Superintendent of British Trade in China, for the time being, was authorised and empowered to make and enforce, by fine and imprisonment, rules and regulations for the observance of the stipulations of treaties, and for the peace, order, and good government of Her Majesty's subjects, being within the dominions of the Emperor of China, or being within any British ship or vessel at a distance of not more than one hundred miles from the coast of China; And Her Majesty was thereby further pleased (among other things) to give authority to any of Her Majesty's Consuls within the said dominions of the Emperor of China, to cause any British subject, who, after having been twice convicted of and punished for any crime or offence, should not be able to find good and sufficient security for his good behaviour, or who might be convicted before such Consul of any of certain particular crimes therein mentioned, to be sent out of the dominions of the Emperor of China in the manner therein mentioned;

And whereas by another Order in Council, passed on the twelfth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, Her Majesty was pleased to order, that it should not be lawful for any person who should thereafter be sent out of the dominions of the Emperor of China, by any of Her Majesty's Consuls, under and by virtue of the said Order of the thirteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and of another Order, dated the second day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, respectively, or under and by virtue of the said Order now in recital, afterwards to return to and again take up his abode within any part of the said dominions, without Her Majesty's permission, to be signified as therein mentioned; and any such person so returning to and taking up his abode within any part of the said dominions, was thereby made punishable, by fine or imprisonment, and liable to be again sent out of the dominions of the Emperor of China, at any time afterwards, in default of finding good and sufficient security for his future good behaviour, in the manner therein particularly mentioned;

And whereas by a certain Ordinance made and passed on the seventeenth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five by His Excellency Sir John Bowring, Kt., then Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the said Colony of Hongkong and its dependencies, and Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary and Chief Superintendent of the Trade of British Subjects in China, with the advice of the Legislative Council of Hongkong, it was enacted, that it should be a misdemeanour, punishable by not more than two years' imprisonment, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars (such punishment to be discretionative or not, at the discretion of the adjudicating tribunal), for any British subject, within any part of China, to assist either the existing Chinese Government, or any or either of the different factions then engaged, or who might be thereafter engaged, in opposition to the Government, by personal enlistment in the service of either of the said several parties, or by procuring other persons to enlist in such service, or by furnishing, selling, or procuring warlike stores of any description, or by fitting out vessels, or by knowingly and purposely doing any other act to assist either party, by which neutrality might be violated; and that the tribunal for adjudicating on offences of the description intended to be thereby dealt with, should consist of a Consular Officer in charge of a Consulate, and two Assessors of Her Majesty, resident within the Consulate;

And whereas it is expedient that the said Ordinance of the seventeenth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, should be explained and amended, and that further provisions should be made to prevent the participation of British subjects within the dominions of the Emperor of China, in acts of war or rebellion against the authority of the said Emperor;

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of all powers enabling Her in this behalf, is pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. IMPARTIAL, NOT NEUTRAL

SHANGHAI, SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1865.

THE publication of the Herald has been anticipated in order to give the Compositors a holiday on Good Friday.

RESIDENTS in Shanghai are apt to look upon themselves as free from those trammels of prejudice which so often disfigure the course of conduct pursued by communities and sections of communities in the mother countries. Removed from the influences which produce political and religious discussion, we are generally content to accept events as they come, and look with a lenient eye on any want of enthusiasm in the support of party questions. Whenever it is possible to meet on neutral ground the opportunity is eagerly seized, and those whom early education would lead to different places of worship, and to opposing sides in politics, are content to sink all minor distinctions, and meet in Shanghai as citizens of the world. Were the state of things otherwise, life in the Far East would become simply unbearable; the amenities of social life would not exist, and friendly intercourse would be found impossible except amongst those of identical creeds and opinions. A contingency of a nature so dangerous has been averted by the conviction which every one holds that the objects of life in Shanghai are of one nature only, and comprise but few of the elements which enter into the ordinary pursuits of home society. But besides this general cause, the rapid growth of Masonry has had a powerful effect in assimilating the discordant elements which enter into the constitution of every society, that of Shanghai not excepted. The result of masonry here has been unmixed advantage, and it has thus sustained its well earned reputation of being a bond of peace and friendship. The most enlightened princes have patronised the mysterious science, and have marked their emancipation from the trammels of mediæval prejudice by, to the best of their ability, promoting the interests of the craft. It is therefore with much regret, and not without a certain feeling of shame, that we have learned that a high dignitary of the Catholic Church within our midst has pledged himself to the support of prejudices as weak as they are obsolete. A gentleman, anxious to enter the matrimonial bonds of which poets have sung, and which philosophers have celebrated as the most effective means of securing public as well as domestic happiness, has been refused the ministrations of the Catholic Church on the sole ground that he is a member of the Masonic fraternity. The conditions which were offered him are sufficient to cause a smile were they not rather suggestive of an imbecility unusual in the nineteenth century. We find ourselves plunged in imagination into the depths of monkish bigotry, and again feel the yoke of the "one true church" pressing heavily on our necks. If, so ran the Episcopal mandate, the applicant for the services of the church were willing to abjure masonry, whatever obligations he might have entered into would disappear under the magical absolution of the priest; but so long as he persisted in fulfilling the engagement which bound him as a Freemason, he must expect no assistance from the Catholic Church in carrying out his matrimonial designs. It is not our wish to enlarge on the power of the priesthood or to discuss the pretensions which have been so frequently and so rudely shaken. But we do desire to hold up to public notice the extraordinary fact that a minister of the only Church which lays claim to infallibility, should commit himself to an act which, if assumed as an example by others in positions lower than his own, would result in many desertions from the standard of Catholicism, or in a disregard to the principles of morality which, as prior laws, take precedence of the dogmas of the Church. It is difficult to realise the existence of prejudice so narrow, nor should we have given credence to the facts we have above stated, but that the most ample documentary evidence has been submitted to us.

SUMMARY OF THE WEEK.

OUR space in this issue is again fully occupied by financial statements and correspondence relating to the Municipal Council's Report. A portion has already been published in our daily issue, but is reproduced in order that the report may be complete in the two numbers of the Herald. The settlement during the past week has been dull as usual. One event only suggests itself for notice, namely, the departure of the Fychow Giant for London in the Vanguard. There have been various rumours afloat about His Highness having declined to leave his native country. However these have turned out to be mere "canards" hatched upon the Hund; as those who saw the group of Celestials upon the deck of the Vanguard on Saturday last will have discovered. The delay has evidently been turned to account; a dwarf whose height, 2 ft. 6 in., merely brings his head to about the level of his companion's boot, has joined the expedition. This additional wonder arrived only the previous day from Hankow. Another member of the family group was no less than the giant's wife, who also has been persuaded to travel with her lord and master. We congratulate the promoters of the Giant scheme upon this additional attraction, and fully expect that the excitement to be caused in London by a live Chinese giant will be doubled by the wonder at a real small-footed celestial beauty. We must not omit to notice that the party is accompanied by two Chinese interpreters, the lady's amah, and of course innumerable cooks and barbers.

CORRESPONDENCE RELATIVE TO GAMBLING HOUSES.

No 147. BRITISH CONSULATE,
SHANGHAI, April 15th, 1864.

SIR,—The Taotai has called upon me officially, in the communication of which I herewith enclose a translation, to take steps for the suppression of Gambling Shops in the Maloo and Luoza districts of this settlement. You will gather from my reply, which I also beg to forward, that I decline to approve of a step of this nature until it shall have been maturely considered, and I should now be glad to receive the views of your Council upon the subject, together with any information which you may think it desirable I should possess.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
H. S. PARKES,
Consul.

H. W. DENT, Esq.,
Chairman of the Municipal Council.

TAOTAI YING TO SIR HARRY PARKES, K.C.B.
SHANGHAI, April 13th, 1864.

I have the honor to forward the following memorial from the decorated merchants Kao Ta Shun, &c. &c., who represent that, residing for business purposes in the Maloo and Luoza districts, they are constantly witnesses to robberies with violence; the offenders escaping nine times out of ten. That robberies are committed with impunity in the by-lanes, the thieves being evidently harbored by the numerous Gambling Houses of which there are over ten in the district round the Maloo, Hwang-tien and Canton Theatre; that the doors of these are guarded by lazy vagabonds, and that at night the blackguards collect there to rob and steal, keeping the residents in a state of alarm day and night, and making it unsafe to walk about with money; that those who are able are removing as fast as they can, while those who are unable to do so are exposed to the greater hardship; that the foreign settlement is of great importance to foreign and native trade; that if tranquillity should be secured the residents and trade would increase; that with ruffians everywhere it is impossible to be tranquil an instant; that they therefore beg me to write for the suppression of the Houses, to arrest the proprietors and examine them with reference to former grave cases, punish them severely and issue a proclamation for general information.

As these houses are a public evil, it appears right to punish those who open them, to thereby repress the sources of robbery and restore tranquillity to the people. I have therefore answered the petition, directed the Chief Magistrate to seize and punish those concerned and issue a proclamation; and, as in duty bound, now write to you to request you to send police also to seize the men; as the gambling-houses must be entirely suppressed and the vagabonds prevented protecting them, for the tranquility of the place.

Translated by
CHALONER ALABASTER.

No. 47. BRITISH CONSULATE,
SHANGHAI, April 14th, 1864.

I am in receipt of your letter of yesterday's date, communicating a petition received by you from certain decorated Chinese merchants resident within the Foreign Settlement, on the subject of Gambling Houses in the Maloo and Luoza districts, also informing me that you had directed the Chief Magistrate to issue a proclamation and arrest the offenders, and requesting me to take similar proceedings.

I shall give the subject of this letter due consideration, but I must at once point out to you that measures of this nature should not be precipitately undertaken. Evils of the kind spoken of are of slow growth, and if allowed to go unchecked for years are not to be removed in a day.

In all matters relating to the public peace and good order of the Foreign Settlements, the labor and cost of protecting which has not hitherto been shared by the Chinese authorities, it is incumbent on the latter not to initiate any new measure without previous deliberation with the Consuls of those nations who have great interests at stake. This is the more necessary as it is well known that the Chinese Police cannot be trusted to act alone in these cases. Extortion is generally the principal use they make of their power, or their collusion in the evil they are ordered to suppress is purchased. The very front of the Yamuns is the place where Gambling Shops are often seen in a Chinese city.

I beg therefore that you will instruct the Magistrate not to commence proceedings in respect to the suppression of these Gambling Shops without previous communication with me, nor to issue Proclamations on this or similar subjects, without observing the courtesy of showing me the Draft. I am prepared, however, to enter upon the subject at once with you and the Magistrate, and to confer with the English Municipal Council whose Police have charge of the districts in question. And I take this opportunity of repeating the assurances I have already given you, of my willingness to co-operate with you at all times in concerting and giving effect to well-considered arrangements for the order and security of this important Port.

Accept the assurances, &c.

H. S. PARKES,
H. B. M.'s Consul.

To His Excellency
Taotai YING.

No. 193. COUNCIL ROOM,
SHANGHAI, 16th April, 1864.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, with enclosures of yesterday's date, addressed to the Chairman of the Municipal Council, informing him of the communication made by the Taotai with regard to the existence of Gambling-houses in this settlement, and of your reply to the same:—

In regard to the position assumed by the Taotai, the Board wish me to bring under your notice the following remarks.

1st. The impracticability of suppressing gambling-houses and brothels, and the manifest disadvantage of placing a check on the known habits of the Chinese, which could only result in their having recourse to greater privacy for their indulgence.

2nd. That inasmuch as it is impossible to wholly remove vice, it becomes the bounden duty of the authorities to restrain it within its narrowest limits and to make it subservient to the public weal by an enforced payment of taxes, and that a system of licensing could make its haunts known, and ensure the watchful care of the police.

3rd. That the late Taotai issued a proclamation having reference to the taxation of brothels, opium shops, &c.

4th. The well-known fact that brothels, gambling-houses, opium shops, &c., exist in all parts of China and that they furnish means of support if not to the highest authorities, at least to a host of petty officials.

5th. The impolicy of thrusting measures, almost peculiar here in their nature, on a settlement like Shanghai, which could only tend to destroy utterly all existing Municipal arrangements.

6th. That whereas the influx of Chinese into this settlement is due in many respects to the comparative security of life and property which is derived from the local arrangements of the foreign community, it would be manifestly unjust that these should be rendered nugatory by the institution of an arbitrary measure calculated only to produce general dissatisfaction among the native residents.

In conclusion, the Council desire me to point out that the numerous robberies alluded to by the Taotai may be ascribed rather to the uncertain operation of the law in Chinese Criminal cases than to the existence of gambling-houses, and that as the suppression of these establishments is out of the question, they have in view certain arrangements, as announced in the annual report, which, by bringing all native houses of entertainment under the supervision and by the imposition of license fees, would, they are of opinion, result very beneficially to the foreign and native communities.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
R. F. GOFLD,
Secretary.

SIR HARRY S. PARKES, K.C.B.,
H. B. M. Consul, Shanghai.

No. 474. COUNCIL ROOM,
SHANGHAI, 30th May, 1864.

SIR,—The Municipal Council having been informed, on the occasion of the public meeting held at H. B. M. Consulate on the 16th ultimo, that the imposition of certain proposed taxes, even though agreed to by the land renters then present, would depend on proceedings to be taken elsewhere, I have now the honor, by their direction, to enquire whether, in consequence of what may have transpired subsequently, any definite rule can be laid down with respect to the taxation of native houses of entertainment.

The board wish me to bring to your notice the fact that the period for which the Chinese house-tax is now being collected will terminate on the 30th June, by which date it would appear desirable that the new rate of their imposition was pronounced legal, should come into operation and thereby render practicable an appreciable reduction of the present high rate levied upon the ordinary native householders.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
R. F. GOFLD,
Secretary.

SIR HARRY S. PARKES, K.C.B.,
H. B. M. Consul, Shanghai.

No. 264. BRITISH CONSULATE,
SHANGHAI, 14th June, 1864.

SIR,—In reply to your letter addressed to me by your board on the 30th ultimo, I have the satisfaction of informing you that the Taotai has expressed to me and to Mr. Seward, Consul-general for the United States, his general concurrence in your proposal to bring under the restraint of a license system the numerous gambling-shops and brothels which infest the foreign settl-

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.

The grounds for the justification of such a system are those which are forcibly urged on my attention in your letter of 16th April, in these terms. "That inasmuch as it is impossible to wholly remove vice, it becomes the bounden duty of the authorities to restrain it "within its narrowest limits and to make it "subservient to the public weal, by an enforced "payment of taxes, and that a system of licen-"sing would make its haunts known and ensure "the watchful care of the police."

The authorities therefore give their sanction to a system in which the above objects, namely the restriction and strict supervision of native houses of entertainment, are carefully kept in view, but as the details of the measure have yet to be determined on and tested, the continuance of that sanction will necessarily depend on the efficiency and success of the arrangements.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your most obedient, humble Servant,
HARRY S. PARKES,
Consul.

H. W. DENT, Esq.,
Chairman of the Municipal Council.

BRITISH CONSULATE,
SHANGHAI, September 13*th*, 1864.

SIR.—The Taotai has asked me whether the Municipal Council have considered the course that would appear to them most expedient to take for the suppression of gambling Houses within this Settlement. This enquiry was made about ten days or a fortnight ago, but in your absence, which I knew was only temporary, as well as that of the Chairman of your Board, I thought I might defer communicating it until your return. The Taotai has remarked on the defiant manner in which these Establishments are now conducted, and has suggested that they might be removed through the agency of the Chinese Police if the task should be deemed unwelcome or unsuited to the Foreign Police of the Settlement.

I have the honor, to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient humble servant,
HARRY S. PARKES.

R. C. ANTHOUPE, Esq.,
Deputy Chairman, Municipal Council.

COUNCIL ROOM,
SHANGHAI, 22*nd September*, 1864.

No. 792.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, wherein you inform me Municipal Council that the Taotai has asked whether they have considered the course that would appear the most expedient to take for the suppression of gambling-houses within this Settlement, also that he has remarked on the defiant manner in which these establishments are now conducted and has suggested that they might be removed through the agency of the Chinese police, if the tax should be deemed unwelcome or unsuited to the foreign police of the Settlement.

Though the views of the Council in regard to the reduction and suppression of vice have already been placed at some length before you, reference may perhaps be allowed to my letter of the 16th April, which though enumerating rather hurriedly (in order to be read if required at the public meeting held on that day), the views of the late Municipal Board, may be taken as indicating generally those grounds on which the existing Council must dissent from a line of argument almost identical with that which called for the reply above alluded to being pursued by the Taotai on the present occasion.

However plausible in theory and unassailable in principle it may be the suppression of gambling-houses, it appears to the Board not only that the mere practicability of such a course should be considered, but that a broader view should be taken of the question than simple moral expediency as relates to a portion only of the area inhabited by foreigners. Sir F. Bruce in a dispatch to the foreign land renters of Shanghai, dated Pekin, August 6th, 1863, has remarked.

"I think the existence of distinct bodies of "Police and of separate Municipal Councils tends "to produce conflict of jurisdiction and to per-"petuate the mischievous error that the inter-"ests of different nations in China are distinct, "whereas in truth they are identical and are "best promoted by union and common action."

And I am to point out the manifest injustice and possible injury to various classes of interests, which may arise by so wrenching a measure as the suppression even of gambling-houses being carried out experimentally in this Settlement, whilst on the other side of the Yung-king-pang such establishments are freely licensed.

Without entering now upon the question of the practicability of total suppression, the following proposition may fairly be laid down.

That measures of all kinds affecting the Municipal arrangements of foreigners which may be instituted by the native authorities at this Port, should operate generally and simultaneously.

The Council are far from asserting that the Toutai's letter is wholly unsalted for, and a reference to statistics will show presently what importance they attach to a proper ventilation of the evils he has complained of. They simply claim an identical policy on the part of the Chinese authorities towards the two Settlements, commonly termed the English and French.

In respect, however, to the concluding paragraph of the letter under acknowledgement, the Board desire to record most emphatically their opinion that in the execution of any such

MORE CURES OF CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, ASTHMA, AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST AND LUNGS,
BY
DR. LOCOCK'S PULMONIC WAFERS.

EXTRACT of a letter from Mr. C. Ward, Gentleman, &c., Market-place, Heckmondwike, Yorkshire, May 27th, 1863.—"The cures of consumption, asthma, and other diseases of the chest and lungs, are regularly occurring. One person in Liversedge, a village adjoining this town, named James Richardson, who has been an asthmatical man for nearly twenty years, declares that they are worth £1 a box (using his own words). He feels quite a new man through this truly valuable medicine." Dr. Locock's Pulmonic Wafers give instant relief to asthma, consumption, coughs, colds, and all disorders of the breast and lungs. To singers and public speakers they are invaluable; they have a pleasant taste. Price 1s. 1½d. 2s. 9d., and 11s. per box. Sold by all druggists.

DISH.

Extract of a Letter from a medical gentleman at Madras to his brother at Worcester, May, 1851
"Tell Lea and Perrins that their Sauce is highly esteemed in India, and is, in my opinion, the most palatable as well as the most wholesome sauce that is made.

CAUTION.

LEA AND PERRINS

Beg to caution the public against spurious imitations of their celebrated
WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.

L. & P. have discovered that several of the Foreign Markets have been supplied with SPURIOUS IMITATIONS, the labels closely resembling those of the genuine Sauce, and in one or more instances the name of L. and P. forged.

L. and P. will proceed against any one who may manufacture or vend such imitations, and have instructed their correspondents in the various parts of the world, to advise them of any infringement of their rights.
